

Later from Utah.
Gen. Johnston Fifty miles from the City—Important Rumor—Treaty of Peace Concluded.

St. Joseph, July 7, via Booneville, July 12. The Salt Lake mail of June 19th has arrived.

Gen. Johnston and his command were met at Echo Canon, fifty miles from Salt Lake City. The army was in excellent health and spirits. Brigham Young and his followers were still at Provo city.

Young had been to Salt Lake City to confer with Governor Cumming and the peace commissioners, but the result of the conference is not known. It was the established opinion that the Mormons would offer no resistance.

Col. Hoffman left the command of Fort Bridger to Capt. Narey, and accompanied Gen. Johnston.

Everything regarding the future movements of the Mormons was veiled in mystery. Rumors were still rife, however, that they meditated an occupancy of Sonora.

The conjectures are numerous in the valley that the United States government intends to purchase the Mormon improvements.

The South Platte river is very high, but the roads are in good condition. The mail party neither saw or met Indians on the plains, but met a great many traders at different points on the road. The mail was nineteen days out from Salt Lake City to St. Joseph.

The same dispatch says that Judge Sinclair, recently appointed associate judge for Utah, would leave St. Joseph on the 10th of July, accompanied by Mr. Dodge, the district attorney for Utah.

Fort Leavenworth, July 8, via St. Louis, July 12.—An express arrived at the fort this morning from Fort Kearney.

The express passed the Utah mail for St. Joseph. It is said that Governor Cumming and the peace commissioners had concluded a treaty of peace with the Mormons.

Gen. Harney was in camp, nine miles beyond Fort Kearney, on the 31 of July. The express with orders for him to halt must have overtaken him on the 6th.

The U. S. steamer Mink leaves the fort tomorrow, with Capt. Lovell's and Lieut. Lee's companies 2d infantry for Fort Randall. She also takes recruits for the same regiment.

Colonel May's command was met thirty-five miles this side of Fort Laramie. A large body of infantry was at Ash Hollow. Major Emory was camped on the Big Blue.

The provision trains were progressing slowly. The Sioux Indians were scattered all along the route, but were friendly. A heavy snow fell at Fort Bridger on the 10th of June. The garrison at Fort Bridger consisted of Capt. Hendrickson's and Lieut. Smith's companies of the sixth infantry, and Capt. Stewart's troops of the first cavalry. St. Louis, July 13.—The Republican has Utah dates to the 18th. The conditions agreed upon by the conference between the peace commissioners and the heads of the Mormons are as follows: The United States troops to enter the city without opposition; the civil officers to perform their duties without interruption, and an unconditional obedience to the laws to be rendered. On the other hand, past offenses are to be forgotten, as stated in the President's proclamation, and all houses are to be closed against strangers, except one for the Governor.

From Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, July 9.—By the arrival at this port to-day of the bark Brilliant, Captain Sigbee, the Pinyone has received advices from Vera Cruz to the 26th ultimo.

Mr. Forsyth, the American Minister, had not demanded his passports, as had been reported, but still remained at the capital awaiting instructions from Washington. The British and French merchants had resolved to pay the forced loan upon imports, as demanded by the Government, but would only do so under protest.

A terrible earthquake was experienced throughout the country on the 18th, destroying a large amount of property and causing the loss of nearly fifty lives, besides a great many wounded. At the capital several buildings were thrown to the ground. The shock is represented in the papers to have been the most severe of any that has occurred for the past fifty years.

Drowned in a Bath.

The Va. Valley Whig says: "We regret to learn that a lady by the name of Mrs. Stears, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, was drowned in the bath at the Ruanoke Red Sulphur Springs on Saturday morning last. The circumstances attending the case, as we have heard them, are very mysterious. It seems that Mrs. Stears, together with two or three other ladies, had gone to the bath in company. There being two apartments in the ladies' bath, Mrs. S. occupied one, while the other ladies entered the other. A servant girl entered the bath-room with Mrs. Stears. She was told to leave, and that when needed Mrs. S. would call for her. She accordingly retired to the adjoining room, and there remained until the other ladies were ready to leave. On returning to the bath leading to the apartment which had been entered by Mrs. S. it was found to be locked. The door was immediately forced open, and Mrs. S. was found lying in the water, but, when rescued, life was extinct. The water in the bath being only some four and a-half feet deep, how she could have drowned, under all the circumstances, is very remarkable. The deceased, we learn, leaves a husband and several children to mourn their loss."

Excessive Heat in France.—The heat is so oppressive and drought prevails to such extent in certain localities of France that, in spite of the recent storms, water begins to get scarce. At Versailles, particularly, where the flow of the Marly aqueduct is interrupted, water is sold at fabulous prices. People talk of its being a trifle for a little over a quart. At Paris the thermometer has been as high as 95°. During excessively hot spells the list is fearful of the victims by suicide, drowning, coups de soleil, nervous prostration, and cerebral congestion of one kind or another. Many Parisians were induced to convert night into day, in order to enjoy the more moderate temperature of that portion of the twenty-four hours. The Bois de Boulogne was sometimes crowded with carriages of all descriptions from nine in the evening till two in the morning.

Porter, the Sunday School Defaulter. His Confessions—How his Crime Commenced.

A correspondent of the Boston Journal says:

"Mr. Fred. W. Porter, the defaulting agent of the American Sunday School Union, whose fall made such a sensation a short time since, has at length made a full and complete confession of the great wrong he has done. He stood very high in the Society and in the Church, and he was almost the last man who would have been suspected to be guilty of so foul a deed. In a letter recently laid before the Board of the Sunday School Union, he has made a complete confession. He began his wrong doing nineteen years ago! The plan was the same that he pursued to the last. His temptation began with the mulberry and silk-worm speculation, nineteen years ago, and under the garb of religion he has for that long time carried out his dishonest plans. He allows that at the start he knew it was wrong; but he hoped to be able to meet the notes as they matured. But as he was unable to do so, he was compelled to renew his notes and pay a heavy bonus. Thus, for nineteen years, he has been treading the thorny path of sin, pursued for virtuous that he knew he did not possess, and taking of the sacrament, which, according to his own professed faith, was adding damnation to himself with each unworthy reception. He defrauded the society out of over $80,000; but the Philadelphia broker who aided him to the dishonest gain, promptly paid all the notes that his name was on, and the loss was lessened nearly $40,000. Mr. Porter confesses that in the nineteen years of fraud he has used the name of the society to the large amount of $600,000, by renewals and reissues. No wonder he is a sick man—one whom, if the law does not reach, the grave will soon overtake. Nineteen years of fraud and crime, and perpetrated in the name of religion—with despair looking him in the face—exposure waiting for him at the corners of each street—with remorse gnawing at his heart—and the worm that dies not hastening to his breast! Mr. Porter's confession will soon be made public."

Judge Lynch in Indiana.

A Man Tamed and Feathered.—A married man named Coons, who is respectfully connected, was tamed and feathered on the night of the 5th instant, at Crawfordsville, Indiana. The Lafayette Courier of the 7th has the following particulars:

It seems that the gay Lothario has been in correspondence for some months past with a respectable young lady of that town, and had proposed an engagement, to which she consented. By arrangement, the devoted girl was to go to Ladoga, on the pretense of visiting some relatives, and he was to follow the next day, and joining there, leave together on the first train for the South. Accordingly, on Monday she went down to Ladoga, and was followed yesterday morning by the gay deceiver. In the meantime the people of Crawfordsville had got wind of the affair, an informal meeting of fifty or more citizens was held, and a committee of five resolute men appointed, with instructions to proceed at once to Ladoga and take Coons in custody.

The Committee left on the evening train, and arriving at Ladoga captured him and brought him back on the 10 o'clock train last night. They were met at the depot by a large crowd of citizens, and the guilty wretch was escorted to the court-house, which had been lighted up for the occasion. Judge Lynch organized his court, and Mr. Coons was put upon his trial. Eighteen love letters of his signature, and addressed to the young lady whom he had sought to victimize, were produced and read to the multitude. No other evidence was needed, and after a few speeches had been made by prominent citizens, the lights were suddenly extinguished—Coons caught and dragged to the court-house yard—every stitch of clothing torn from his back—a bucket of warm tar poured over his head, and a bag of feathers artistically applied.

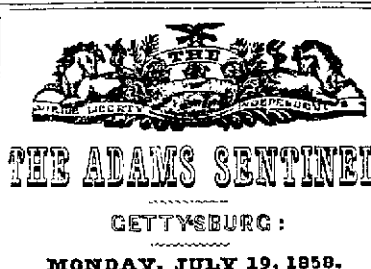

A more hideous looking object, says our informant, cannot be imagined. He was escorted from head to heels. The committee took him in charge and escorted him to the outskirts of the town, where they humanely provided him with a suit of clothing, and by a vigorous application of soft soap and laid removed the tar and feathers. He was placed aboard the train for this city to-day, and leaves by the Valley road to night for California.

The Lynching Case in Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, July 12.—In Joseph Beard, the city marshal of Lexington, Ky., who was killed by Barker on Saturday morning, was, at the time, endeavoring to stop a fight in the market house. Barker, who was engaged in the row, rushed upon Beard with a knife, which entered his side, severing the lungs and entering the heart, killing him instantly. A terrible excitement immediately ensued and the citizens assembled in large numbers. Barker was taken to the watch house and thence to the jail. He was, however, soon seized by the indignant multitude and marched to the court house yard. A temporary scaffold was erected from the court house window, and at 8 A. M. Barker was swung off. The first rope broke and he fell to the ground, a distance of thirty feet, bruising his face considerably. He recovered in a few minutes and was again taken up to the window, another rope attached and he was then made to jump again from the window. His lifeless body was left dangling in the air throughout the day.

A Fox Hunt Ends.—Under this head the Mount Jay Herald tells the following: "A small lad by the name of Hous, 10 or 12 years old, took it in his head and carried it out in his hands, the other day, to beat a gentleman of our place—who was driving a good horse in a carriage, on a three mile beat down the Lancaster turnpike. The gentleman acknowledges that after urging his horse as fast as the warm weather would permit with safety, at the end of three miles the lad on foot was not only ahead, but less fatigued than the horse."

A Young Lady Killed.—On Saturday, 28th ultimo, a young man and woman, who were to be married the following Monday, went to the woods near Newburg, Michigan, and sat down on a log. Meantime a cockney sportsman, who was out after deer, seeing the flutter of the lady's dress, fired and shot her through the body, causing her death in three hours.

GETTYSBURG:

MONDAY, JULY 19, 1859.

The People's State Ticket.

SUPREME JUDGE,
JOHN M. READ, of Philadelphia.
CANAL COMMISSIONER,
WILLIAM E. FRAZER, of Fayette.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Union County Committee, held in Gettysburg, on Monday, June 28, it was unanimously

Resolved, That in accordance with the recommendation of the several State Committees, we invite the Citizens of Adams County, who are opposed to the present National Administration, especially to its despotic and fraudulent Lecompton policy, and its willful neglect of the just claims of domestic industry, and who are in favor of the Sovereignty of the People over their own local concerns; of American institutions against the policy and intrigues of foreign governments; and of adequate protection to our homelabor; to meet at the usual places for holding Delegate Elections, on Saturday the 31st day of July next, between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock, P. M., and elect two Delegates from each Borough and Township, to meet in COUNTY CONVENTION, in Gettysburg, on Monday the 22d day of August next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to nominate a People's Ticket to be supported at the full election, and to appoint Congressional Congresses, and transact such other business as may be necessary.

By order of Executive Committee,
CHAS. HORNER, Chairman.
WM. F. WALTER, Sec'y.

A new counterfeit $10 note, purporting to be issued by the Bank of Chambersburg, has made its appearance. It is signed J. H. Culbertson, Pres't, and J. Lesley, Cashier. The genuine bill has the signature of "Joseph Culbertson, Pres't," and the spurious is thus easily detected.

We see it stated, that new counterfeit $5's on the Gettysburg Bank and the York County Bank have made their appearance; but we have noticed nothing authentic on the subject.

Mr. C. H. AUSTIN, formerly teacher of the Male High School in this place, who has been one of the instructors in the York County Normal School, has been appointed Teacher of the Male High School in York.

The pastoral relation between the Rev. Joseph Enders and the Congregational Chapel Congregation has been dissolved. He is succeeded by the Rev. Father Catanna.

The wheat crop has been pretty generally housed. It is feared there will not be more than what is termed "half a crop," but it may prove better than anticipated.

At the unanimous request of the "Independent Blues," Capt. BUEHLER has withdrawn his resignation as their commanding officer.

The Railroad track is completed from New Oxford to a half mile this side of Conowingo; and cars are passed over the road as far as Conowingo. The contractors are pushing on.

A Grand Tournament at Mummaburg is to come off on the 31st. See advertisement.

Fast Travelling.

On Monday evening last, a horse of Mr. N. COPPINI trotted from Emmitsburg to this place, a distance of 10 miles, in 43 minutes and 18 seconds—a little over four minutes to the mile! And this over a road far from being good.

A disastrous accident took place on the New York and Erie railroad on Friday morning, 7th miles from New York. Two cars were thrown down an embankment thirty feet, and smashed, caused by a broken rail. Six persons were killed, and forty-seven wounded, some of them fatally. The scene was heart-rending.

News has been received from the fleet engaged in laying the Telegraphic cable. Two unsuccessful attempts were made, and 48 miles of cable lost. They were to make another attempt on the 20th ult. The weather had been very stormy, and interfered very much with their operations.

Two steamers, the Arctic and Great West, were burned on Thursday evening, two miles below Pittsburgh—loss $33,000.

The Delaware Canal, from Easton to Bristol, has been sold by the Seaboard and Erie Railroad Company to an association of ten or twelve leading capitalists of Philadelphia, for $1,775,000, to be paid principally in 6 per cent. mortgage bonds, preferred stock, and $475,000 in cash within ten months. The bargain has been approved by the Governor.

Saved from Loss.—The American Sunday School Union has been saved from loss by the defalcations of Mr. F. W. Porter. He wronged the society out of $80,000, but by dextrous management, the society has obtained security to the amount of over $40,000, and the balance has been assumed by a Christian gentleman who desires the welfare of the society.

The People's Convention

Assembled at Harrisburg on Wednesday last, and there was a full attendance. Dr. FAIRBANKS was the Senatorial, and C. H. BUEHLER, Representative Delegate from this county. Gov. REEDER, of Northampton county, and first Governor of Kansas, presided over the Convention. On the tenth ballot, JOHN M. READ, Esq., a very eminent lawyer of Philadelphia, was nominated for Supreme Judge; and WM. E. FRAZER, of Fayette county, late State Senator, for Canal Commissioner. It is a very strong ticket, and one which must strike terror into the hearts of the adherents of the wasteful and profligate Administration of Mr. Buchanan. We must now get to work and elect them. A further report of the proceedings will be given next week.

Fire in Hampton.

We regret to learn that the dwelling, nearly new, of Mr. LEWIS CHRONISTER, in Hampton, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 27th ult., with all his household furniture, the family barely escaping in their night clothing. The fire is supposed to have originated through the placing of hot ashes in a barrel, in a shed adjoining the house, the day previous. No insurance. The loss falls heavily upon Mr. C., who has a large family dependent upon him for support.—Compiler.

An elderly man named Lawrence Kling, residing near the Hanover Junction, committed suicide on Tuesday last, by shooting himself with a musket. No cause is assigned.

The steam-tug Rappahannock, having in tow 25 canal boats for Fairmont, from Bordentown, N. J., and 55 mules on board, took fire when in the middle of the Delaware, below Philadelphia, on the afternoon of the 15th inst. The fire was first discovered under the deck, and an attempt was made by the crew to extinguish it, but in a few minutes the flames burst through the deck and spread so rapidly that all attempts to subdue the fire proved abortive. Forty-eight of the mules were burnt to death, and the crew barely escaped with their lives. The loss is heavy, as some of the teams, consisting of three mules, were valued at over $500.

The Government has received official information of the defeat of Col. Steptoe's command, by the Indians in Oregon, with a loss of 2 commissioned officers and killed 13 non-commissioned officers and privates killed and wounded. The difficulties threaten to be serious, and will undoubtedly engage the prompt and vigorous action of the government. Already 250 troops have sailed from San Francisco for the scene of hostilities. It is feared we shall have a general Indian war in that region.

The government has, under the advice of the Attorney General, decided that the loan or tax imposed by the Mexican government on our citizens residing in Mexico is illegal and contrary to treaty stipulations. The consequence will probably be that Mr. Forsyth will make a formal protest, and that if satisfaction be not rendered, he will withdraw from Mexico. Whether the Mexican side of the question has been stated to our government does not appear. But that there are some reasons for the forced loan would appear from the fact that the French minister does not disapprove of it, though Frenchmen are more numerous in Mexico than any other foreigners. It is represented that this forced loan is really a property tax for the benefit of the commercial, banking and other public interests in Mexico. The foreigners cannot understand, however, that the right of exacting loans is exercised for their good, and fear that it will be so used as to absorb all their goods.

Want a Union.—Some of the Buchanan papers are beginning to beg the Douglas-Forney men to come back into the Democratic sheep pen. They do not relish U. on the other side, but seem to think it a little desirable to their own. The only difficulty is as to who shall "leave in." Old Buck is pretty stiff, and the Little Giant a little stiffer. Somebody must come down.

We have seen it stated repeatedly that during the entire session of Congress President Buchanan has not given an American or R. Republican member of the Senate or House an invitation to dinner. The pithy meanness of this extreme partisanship of the President is despicable. It is the first time in all the history of the country that the ordinary courtesies of the President have been denied to members of Congress who differ from him in politics. Mr. Buchanan has carried his partisanship to an extreme that must disgust every honorable and high minded citizen.—Louisville Journal.

An Item for Sportsmen.—The following are the points most useful to be observed in the Game laws: The act makes it unlawful to kill any insectivorous bird—birds the killing of pheasants between the 1st of January and the 1st of September—of woodcock between the 1st of January and the 4th of July—of partridges and rabbits between the 1st of January and the 1st of October. The penalty for a breach of the laws is $5. A like penalty is inflicted for buying any of the above game unless the same be taken in proper season, and the act makes the possession of any of the game or birds mentioned in the bills prima facie evidence to convict under it.

The Reign of Profligacy.

The Legislature of this State, and the Congress of the United States, having doubled their pay, it would seem a corresponding system of extravagance has been inaugurated in every department of government. Gov. Packer has called the volunteers of the State to assemble at Williamsport—a most inaccessible part of the State—to hold an encampment—for what purpose, no one can tell. That the people must foot the bill is evident from the following from the Delaware County Republican:

Military Encampment.—It is estimated that the proposed military encampment at Williamsport, will cost the State one hundred thousand dollars. As there are only fifteen thousand dollars at present in the militia fund, it has been suggested that it would be better to postpone the encampment until financial affairs are in a better condition. It is hardly worth while to run the Commonwealth still further in debt to learn peaceable people the art of war.

But every step taken, appears to illustrate the same spirit of reckless extravagance. Take the following from the same paper. All honor to the soldiers who died in the service of the country; but it may be well to inquire why the memory of the heroes of the Revolution are not as well worthy of marble monuments as those who entered upon the war in Mexico?

A costly Monument.—The Legislature at its last session appropriated six thousand dollars to erect a monument at Harrisburg, to the memory of the Pennsylvanians who fell or died in the Mexican war. Commissioners were appointed to decide upon the plan, and perform such other duties as were necessary to carry out the object of the law. These Commissioners met at Harrisburg, last week, and after consultation, adopted a design prepared by a gentleman of Philadelphia, provided it would not cost more than thirty thousand dollars. We presume it was the object of the originators of this project, that a plain and beautiful monument should be erected to the heroes of the Mexican war, and the action of the Legislature in appropriating six thousand dollars is evidence that such was the case. The cost has now got up to thirty thousand dollars. The six thousand dollars will soon be expended in travelling and other expenses, so well understood by some of the gentlemen composing the commission. The foundation of the monument will probably be laid, and the Legislature will be bored year after year to appropriate funds to complete the structure. There are different ways of leeching the State Treasury, and this is not one of the least ingenious.

Beginning to Go.—The steamer which sailed from New York on Wednesday, carried off $500,000 in gold. If money is carried away in such quantities, when business is so much depressed, and the rates of interest so low in Europe, how will it go when importations begin again?

Two boilers at the Manchester Print Works, in Smithfield, R. I., exploded on Thursday week. Two men were killed and many others wounded. The boiler-house was entirely destroyed, and the other parts of the factory badly damaged. These print-works seemed doomed to disaster. This is the fourth time they have been blown up by explosion or destroyed by fire.

Niagara Falls Backing Up.—Another mass of rock, earth and trees separated themselves from Goat Island, at Niagara falls, last week, and went thundering down into the chasm. Buffalo may hope in time to have the falls within the city limits.

The French Slave Trade.—The Society of Friends have addressed a letter to the Emperor of France entreating him to exercise the power entrusted to him, that no proceedings on the part of the French government may in future open the way for a revival of the trade in human beings; that all attempts to introduce into the colonies of France natives of Africa, under the name of free emigrants, may henceforth be absolutely prohibited.

NEW ORLEANS, July 13.—The Pinyone has received intelligence from Mexico to the 29th ult., three days later. The order for the levy of the forced loan upon imports had been countermanded in the province of Guanajuato, and a number of orders that had been issued for the expulsion of those foreigners refusing its payment had been withdrawn.

The earthquake reported in previous accounts continued to be felt on the 18th, 19th and 20th, with the most disastrous effects. At Monellia two churches and several houses were laid prostrate, and at Talzanas four churches and a number of dwellings, besides sixteen of the inhabitants being killed. From other portions of the country we have accounts of many villages being entirely destroyed. The earthquake was the most fearful one for half a century, and no portion of the country is believed to have escaped its visitation.

Terrible Affray in Lawrenceville, Ky.—At a barbecue in Lawrenceville, Anderson county, Ky., on Friday last, two young men named Miller, from Washington county, became excited with liquor, and on an attempt being made to quiet them, assaulted four men, three of whom were brothers by the name of Lurey. Two of the Lureys were killed, the third was mortally wounded and the fourth man shot dead. The murderers have been arrested.

The Weather in London.—The heat in London during the last week in June was greater than in the corresponding week for 43 years. The thermometer rose to 94 degrees in the shade.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

It is impossible not to foresee that the question of Protection to American industry is to play an important part in our politics for some time to come. The progressive bankruptcy of the Government, the depressed, or rather the totally stagnant, condition of every branch of production and of every department of commerce, the countless masses of laborers who in all parts of the country are vainly seeking employment in this most genial season of the year, the death of all industrial enterprises, and the prospect now before us of a winter of unexampled poverty and suffering, after a most bountiful harvest and amid excessive cheapness of the necessities of life, all this must of necessity turn the minds of men to the recollection of former epochs of similar though hardly of equal disaster, and to the means by which the country has before been extricated and restored to a healthy condition. That means, on such former occasions, has been the Protection of American Industry; and it is only natural that the poverty-stricken farmers, manufacturers, merchants and laborers, should now recur to the same means as the only efficient remedy which can be employed. This is all the more certain to be the case from the fact that the present dreary and dangerous state of things is but what we who stand for Protection have constantly foretold, even in the midst of the seeming prosperity of recent years, as the necessary consequence of our Free Trade system, and as sure to come upon us; and the people will well remember that we were then met by the same presumptuous and insolent sneers, instead of facts and arguments, with which the apostles of Free Trade, though in a milder and somewhat chastened tone, receive our suggestions now.

There can, we suppose, be no doubt that now, as in 1842, the enactment of a just and really Protective Tariff would instantly revive the drooping energies of the country, set the stagnant life of the nation into hopeful activity, restore the circulation to the members of the body politic, set in movement the energies of enterprise, give employment everywhere to mechanics, miners, and manufacturing workmen, open secure and remunerative markets to the farmers, enable the merchants to begin paying their debts again, call in new emigrants and new capital with them from the Old World, and revive once more that marvelous spectacle of American progress, on whose sudden and almost total interruption all friends of liberal institutions cannot but look with alarm. We say this without doubt but the effect of restoring a Protective Tariff; and in saying this we leave aside the question of the abstract wisdom and logical soundness of Protection as a theory; and we simply say that such was the result not long ago than 1842, and that the popular instinct is assured, right or wrong, that such would be the result now. This assurance may be erroneous, if you please, though we believe it to be true and wise; at any rate it exists. Act upon it, and at least you restore confidence, the loss of which, a year since, in the opinion of some eminent free traders, "brought death into the world and all our woe."

Queer Doings in Cincinnati.—They are cutting up high in Queen City. Last week half a dozen women were beaten by men. Among them was a woman of bad character, who dogged a steamboat Captain and his wife, until the Captain horsewhipped her. He was arrested and fined. One Jenny Daly, an Irishman, threw his cousin into the Miami Canal, out of jealousy. About three hundred laborers and rowdies got up a prize fight near Cincinnati, but one of the men would not fight. His partisans were about to beat him, when the police came up and arrested the ring leaders. All this with the thermometer at 95.

Polly Punished.—Casper Heisenbacher, a young German, was very badly injured in Chicago, on Monday, 5th inst., by firing on a wager of half a dime, a cracker held in his mouth. He won the bet, but was seriously burned, his tongue and cheeks were lacerated, and two of his teeth blown out.

Two-headed Girl.—They have a two-headed girl in Louisville, Ky. From the description given by the papers of that city, she must be a young lady capable of getting up a private party on her own individual resources. A late number of the Louisville "Democrat" says:—

"She is the embodiment of all that is extraordinary and strange, having two finely formed heads, very intelligent, and of a most lively and amiable disposition. She sings prettily, and with both mouths, talks and walks well, and always interests her visitors to a great degree. There is no shadow of a doubt but that she is the greatest curiosity ever witnessed, and should be seen by everybody."

Northern Central Railway.

The completion of this road is a work that has been long and earnestly looked forward to, and calculated largely to benefit the coal, iron, agricultural and other interests of Pennsylvania along the region through which it runs. Its whole length is one hundred and thirty eight miles, starting at the city of Baltimore, and running through the counties of York, Cumberland, Perry, Dauphin and Northumberland in this State, and terminating at the town of Sunbury in the latter county, where it connects with the Sunbury and Erie road, which is completed to Williamsport, on the West Branch of the Susquehanna. Here a connection is made with the Williamsport and Elmira road, running to Elmira in the State of New York, where this road connects with the Canadaigua and Niagara Falls road, terminating at the suspension bridge over the Niagara river at the Fall's, and here are railroads diverging east and west to and beyond the Lakes, and into Canada. An unbroken chain of railroad is thus completed between the Atlantic cities and the Lakes. By this route passengers from Philadelphia or Baltimore may reach the Falls of Niagara in from seventeen to eighteen hours. The whole distance from Philadelphia is four hundred and forty-four miles, and from Baltimore four hundred and twenty-two. The fare will not exceed ten or eleven dollars from either city.

Indian War Anticipated.—Advices from Oregon and Washington territories, though not sufficiently official for the government to set upon, have occasioned much apprehensions as to the probability of a serious Indian war. Nearly a dozen treaties with these tribes were left suspended at the last executive session of the Senate, which had been submitted soon after the meeting of Congress. This appearance of bad faith on our part has doubtless operated as a cause in provoking hostilities, which had previously been engendered by a class of desperate speculators, who rely upon an Indian war as one of the direct roads to fortune. They have profited by the experience in Florida. There are now pending before Congress, for the few skirmishes which occurred in Oregon two years ago, claims exceeding five millions of dollars, which are vouched for by an officer of the government specially detailed for the purpose. This single fact admonishes us what a real war might cost, if once regularly started.

Later from Utah.

St. Louis, July 12.—A Utah news letter from an officer of the army, writing from Gen. Johnston's camp on Bear river on the 16th ultimo, says that the Army would resume its march on the 17th. Gen. Johnston had received an express from the Commissioners, stating that the army would be peaceably received; but Gen. J. did not feel any increased confidence on that account, and kept the army in readiness to repel any treachery. He had issued a proclamation to the people, in which he stated that the army is now as ready to afford assistance as it was to oppose them when in rebellion. The troops were in fine condition.

The number of the Indians in the Canadian Provinces, as far as could be ascertained by a special commissioner recently appointed, was about 8,500 in the eastern and 11,500 in the western provinces, showing a total of nearly 20,000, exclusive of wandering tribes to the north, of whom no correct information could be procured. A majority of the tribes are steadily though slowly increasing in numbers, and in nearly all some approaches to civilization have been made.

The Cultivation of Tea.—A Washington correspondent says that the Agricultural Bureau of the Patent Office is making preparations to test the cultivation of tea in this country. The seed will be preserved in China specially for this purpose, planted in glass cases, and shipped in October. By the time of their arrival here they will have sufficiently sprouted to be set out in beds. After being tested here, the plants, if successful, will be distributed among the Southern States. An order for a great variety of seeds will also be sent to Egypt in a few days, through a house in London. This list includes wheat, barley, rice, clover, (Trifolium Alexandrinum), &c.

The Mormons and the Indians.—A letter received by the Interior Department from Dr. Forney, superintendent of Indian affairs in Utah, alludes with confidence to the peaceable disposition of the Indians, including the tribes which Brigham Young boasted could be depended upon on the side of the Mormons, should hostility ensue between them and the United States.

The National Union, lately started in Chicago to sustain the Administration, as 'the only Democratic paper in Chicago,' has gone over to the support of Douglas. The editor says the Administration did not come down with the promised cash,—and the Administration folks say they had no confidence in the editor.

Protection Wanted.—Out of twenty-one furnaces in the valley of the Schuylkill, only four or five, we learn, are in blast, and one or two of those propose stopping, unless the demand for iron improves. No wonder the coal business is prostrated, and thousands of working men destitute of employment. American industry must be protected!

Further from California.

New York, July 14.—The Star of the West has arrived with $1,400,000 in treasure, and about four hundred passengers. She reports that business at San Francisco during the past fortnight had been quite active, with large sales of provisions, mining implements, clothing, and firearms at advanced rates. Haxall flour had sold at auction at a heavy decline, and last quotations were $11 a $12 superfine. Small lots brought $14.

Eight thousand persons had left California for Fraser river. Owing to a scarcity of laborers in California prices had advanced 30 per cent, and six steamers and ten sailing vessels had been detained in San Francisco.

The Hudson's Bay Company had stationed armed vessels at the mouth of the river to prevent the emigrants from carrying goods into the interior, but an American vessel is reported to have entered in spite of the blockade.

The defeat of Col. Steptoe is confirmed. His command fell into an ambush, and was attacked by a large number of Indians. He was forced to retreat with a loss of seven killed and fifteen wounded. The troops were not sufficiently supplied with ammunition.

A general Indian war was expected.—Gen. Clarke had dispatched troops from San Francisco and Los Angeles to assist Col. Steptoe in case of necessity.

A Jolt.

The other day, as a train of cars on the Orange and Alexandria, (Va.) Railroad was at the bridge opposite the residence of Mr. Wallace, near Culpepper, C. H., the engine driver discovered a man sitting on the track, with his head hanging down, as if taking a nap. All efforts were made to stop the train; though it being near the end of a curve, it was impossible to do so in time. When the engine struck the man, it lifted him eight or ten feet in the air, and he fell flat on his back in the ditch, apparently lifeless. The conductor ran the train back and took him on board, and started back to procure for him medical aid. While on the way back, the man commenced talking, remarking that he was carrying him the wrong way. He soon after raised up his head and said he was not hurt. He then rose to his feet, remarking at the time, "Stranger, you gave me a thundering jolt! Hello! let me get off!" The train stopped. As he alighted on the ground, he jumped up and cracked his heels together, and bade adieu. He called himself "Jack Brown, of Culpepper."

A Long Pastorate.—On the 27th of June, Rev. Dr. Snell, senior pastor of the First Congregational church in North Brookfield, Mass., preached a discourse appropriate to the day as the sixtieth anniversary of his settlement. He is now in his 84th year, and has lived to see all the church, over which he was settled in his youth, swept away by death.

Singular Case of Divorce.—A suit for divorce is now pending in the Ohio courts between a man and his wife, who are said to have lived together very happily for a year, at the close of which a child was born, and became the cause of the domestic difficulty that will end in their separation, the discussion being all about an innocent name given to an innocent infant. The wife intimated to her husband that she would like to have the child called Athol. At this the liege lord objected, remembering one of her "flames" before marriage; she urged; he refused; she wept; he grew obstinate, and said she need not hope to shake his resolution by her tears—he was marble when a principle was involved. She intimated that there was a remedy to which she would not object; he comprehended her meaning, and hence an application for divorce.

Sudden Check to a Pleasure Party.—As the steamer Ben Loder was on a pleasure excursion on Geneva Lake, on the evening of the commencement exercises of the Hobart Free College of Geneva, and while the party of between four and five hundred gentlemen and ladies were in the midst of their hilarity, a young man named Joseph A. Clark, of Rochester, fell overboard and was drowned. He had been a member of Geneva College, and present at commencement. From dancing and laughter the party immediately relapsed into sadness, and the boat returned.

Wine Cheaper than Water.—The Paris correspondent of the Boston Traveler, under date of June 25th, says: "Complaints are made from every part of France that the wells and springs are drying up, and it is said that wine will be cheaper than water this year. The wine crop, it is said, promises to be the largest ever seen; old wine casks cannot be had now for love or money, and the porters are busy making huge jars like the oil jars of the Arabian Nights for the superabundant grapes."

A party of boys were playing with powder in the lot of a store at Burgh Hill, Trumbull county, Ohio, on the 5th instant, and the whole keg, some thirty-five pounds, exploded, tearing the building to pieces and fatally injuring two of the boys, Adams, and Vernon, 10 and 12 years of age. The shock was felt two miles distant.

An Unlucky Building.—The Bath (Me.) Organ states that the premises of Mr. Givan, in Burnswick, where a pair of oxen were killed by lightning last week, have been struck by lightning 27 times in the last 15 years! Pretty nearly time to put up a conductor.

All for Love.—The Lancaster Daily Times reports that last week a respectable young lady, moving in the highest circles in that city, attempted to commit suicide by taking arsenic, but fortunately for herself and family, the dose was entirely too large, which saved her life. Medical aid was procured as soon as possible, and the proper remedies applied. She is still in a very low condition. It seems that she had fallen in love with a certain gentleman, who could not, or would not, reciprocate her affections. The knowledge of this, so worked upon her, and so destroyed her peace of mind, that she determined to take her life. This is the second attempt of the kind, that she has made within a few months.

Pottsville, Pa., July 13.—Fire men were instantly killed this morning at Harper's mines, on Wolf creek, by black damp. Five others were seriously injured, but it is supposed they will recover.

The eldest daughter of Dr. H. A. LEMAN, of Hanover, an interesting little girl, aged 7 years, was drowned in the Conestoga, in Lancaster county, on the 8th inst. She was fishing along the creek, which was near their residence. (The Dr. not having yet removed his family to Hanover,) and somehow fell into water some six feet deep. On the same day, the Doctor went on a visit to his family, and as he was getting out of the stage, the first news he heard was, that his eldest daughter, Margaret, had just been taken out of the Conestoga creek, a corpse! His feelings may be imagined.

Mummasburg Mutual Fire Protection Society.
THE above named Institution is now prepared to receive Proposals for the Insurance of property in this County. One hundred and twenty Applications, embracing property amounting to one hundred and ninety thousand dollars in value, were Approved of on the third day of July, instant.

As this Corporation was originated with the sole view of securing the property of Farmers and other persons in insulated and detached locations, no property within the limits of the borough of Gettysburg, nor any other town wherein buildings are situated in blocks or closely adjoin, nor upon any property wherein Steam-power is employed, or upon any buildings or property within one hundred and fifty yards of any Rail-way on which Locomotive engines are run, nor upon any property within one hundred yards of any stationary Steam-engine, will be insured. The burning of Camphene, Pine and Kerosene oil is considered extra hazardous and decidedly interdicted.

The carrying of candles, lamps or other fire-lights unprotected by glass lanterns, through and about houses,—into rooms not constantly occupied,—into out-houses, barns and stables, as also the storing up and keeping of Ashes in wooden vessels in buildings insured, are so indisputably acts of "gross negligence," that in a case of damages by fire, the insured party may be put to the onus probandi, (obligation of proving) that the fire did not originate from any of these reprehensible and inexorable practices.

The intention of the Society is, by the adoption and enforcement of stringent precautionary Rules, as much as possible to diminish the chances of fires occurring from sheer carelessness, and to conduct the business thereof on the most economical plan; the only Officer receiving any remuneration for his services is the Secretary.

Application can be made to any of the Officers, who will act as Surveyors and Agents.

Treasurer—George Throns;
Secretary—James Russell;

Vice-President—John F. Walweiler;
